AIRCRAFT ON FIRE IN AIR--28 KILLED

Zeppelin Dirigible Explodes at Height of 3000 Feet Above Johannisthal Field

BATHED IN FLAMES AS IT PLUNGED THROUGH ETHER

Thousands Viewed Sight—Admiral Behnisch Dead—First Flight of Ship Built for Navy

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—Zeppelin dirigible "L-2" exploded and burned while flying 3000 feet above Johannisthal field today. Of twenty-nine persons aboard the dirigible, twenty-eight were killed. The airship, which was considered the last word in aerial construction of its kind, had just been completed for the use of the navy and was making its first trial flight. Besides the crew the airship carried the Board of Admiralty Commissioners, headed by Admiral Behnisch, who was among those killed.

The thousands of people attending the test were horrified to see the airship explode with a heavy detonation. The airship was immediately swept by flame from end to end, and fell to the earth, streaming with fire. Only the twisted aluminum framework remained when the airship struck the ground. This was so hot that it was some time before it could be approached.

Troops were hurried to the scene to control the crowd, and cars for the charred corpses were forwarded.

Kaiser William has ordered an investigation to determine if possible the cause of the disaster. A short time later the Zeppelin Hansa flew over the city in an effort to counteract the effect of the disaster. The Hansa was heavily cheered.

Manager Wiener of the Albatross Aeroplane Works, who saw the airship destroyed, said: "It was frightful. I was working when the detonation started me. Running from the shop, I saw the dirigible falling. It was all in flames and the sight fascinated me."

"Before the wreck struck the ground the airbag was consumed. Some of the victims fell free from the craft while in the air, others clung to the metal work, and were buried in the debris."

Beside Admiral Behnisch, the Admiralty Commission consisted of Lieutenant Freyer and Engineer Busch of the navy, and two naval aviators, Herr Neumann and Herr Pletzer. Freyer was in command.

The sole survivor of the terrible disaster was Lieutenant Baron Von Blum of the navy.

Further Disasters
BERLIN, Oct. 17.—Close on the heels of the Zeppelin disaster, word reached here that Captain Haeseler, Lieutenant Koch and Sergeant Mante, of the military aviation corps were killed.

CHARGE REFRIGERATION REFUSED BY 56 RAILWAYS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—A complaint charging fifty-six railroads with having refused to furnish refrigeration facilities for deciduous fruits was filed with the interstate commerce commission today by the California Fruit Growers Association.

The association also asked the commission to fix a minimum capacity of twenty thousand pounds for refrigeration cars instead of twenty-six thousand, saying the latter caused loss by the decay of the fruits.

OFFICIAL DEMAND FOR INVESTIGATION MADE IN FIGHT ON SALOONS

Drys Petition Clerk to Secure Lists of Lodgers--Comparison to Be Made With Great Register

The hot fight that has been on between the wets and drys at Anaheim took a new turn this morning when Rev. H. H. Young, one of the anti-saloon campaigners, filed with the county clerk a request that lists of lodgers occupying rooms in various hotels and rooming-houses be secured by him.

The drys make no odds about saying that they think that there have been illegal registrations made by the wets. This the wets deny. However, the drys have outlined a plan of procedure that they say will uncover the illegal registrations if there be any. The procedure is one laid down by law to be followed when the authorities or ten or more citizens desire an investigation.

The law states that ten or more citizens may petition the county clerk to secure from rooming-house proprietors full lists of their roomers. This petition makes it mandatory for the clerk to act. He serves personal notice immediately upon lodging-house keepers, and the keeper must give immediately a list of his lodgers or be guilty of a misdemeanor.

When a list of lodgers is secured, comparison may be made with the great register, and if it is discovered that any registration is illegal, the district attorney proceeds at once for a violation of the election laws.

Last Monday morning a delegation of Anaheim drys, including Rev. Young and Rev. Maricle, went to the county clerk's office, and began an examination of the registration affidavits. These affidavits were checked over, and it is reported that on account of the number of registrations from some of the rooming-houses that the investigators decided to demand an official report.

The demand upon County Clerk Williams for a report from the lodging houses of Anaheim was signed by the following electors: F. J. Barnes, C. M. Holman, F. W. Mitchell, Gertrude Foster, Albert Gervais, A. H. Zahl, C. R. Moore, Mabel K. Owen, George M. Ross, Susie Jayne, H. J. Westerman, E. P. Ustick, W. A. Ross, Julia A. Hickerson, Della S. Norton and Walter J. Ross.

Immediately upon receiving the petition, County Clerk Williams prepared question lists, one to be presented to each keeper or owner listed. Armed with the necessary papers to be served, Deputy County Clerk A. L. Hitchcock departed for Anaheim, where he will secure the lists demanded. The list of lodging houses, cottages, etc., presented by the petitioners follows:

Precinct No. 1
The Arden, F. S. Beale, 140 W. Center. The Windsor, Sydney H. Bryan, 205 1/2 S. Lemon.

POWDERED HAIR TO BE REVIVED ONCE MORE IN LONDON

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The powdering cloths which still exist in some old London homes may yet be restored to their former prestige, for there is now something more than a possibility of powdered hair becoming fashionable for evening functions.

"We expect to be very busy powdering during the 'little season' before Christmas," said the head of the hair dressing department at Selfridge's.

"Many followers of the fashion, of course, will get the same effect by means of gray or white wigs for few ladies today find themselves able to spare the time which the eighteenth century grande dame patiently devoted to the powdering of her hair and the subsequent brushing out of the powder. White wigs are, however, expensive so that there will be a great deal of actual powdering done."

"Powdered hair is quite a good idea from a spectacular point of view," said a theatrical costume designer, "and I quite believe in the rumors that it is to be worn again with modern dresses."

FALLING OF GIANT METEOR
SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 17.—A giant meteor fell last night at 10:30 to the southeast of this city. It started from the zenith and left a brilliant trail of fire across the sky to the horizon, seeming to fall in the east-end of the valley, though it may have been much farther away. It made the valley almost as light as day for a few seconds.

DR. SUN YAT SEN REPORTED AS ARRESTED

Charged With Misappropriating $160,000 of Funds of the Revolutionary Party

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 17.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, former provisional president of the Chinese republic, has been arrested in Japan on a charge of misappropriating approximately $160,000, presumably from the funds of the revolutionary party, according to the passengers of the steamer Empress of India, which arrived here yesterday. Arrangements are being made for taking him back to China to face the charge, it was declared.

The former rebel leader's arrest resulted from an investigation instituted by local Chinese who became suspicious when no receipt for $50,000 forwarded to him for the "cause" was received. An examination showed, it was declared here last night, that the heads of the party had not received the money.

A few days ago, passengers from the Orient brought the information that Sun had traveled on the steamer Awa Maru, disguised as a Japanese and had landed at Kobe. This was confirmed by passengers who arrived here today on the Empress of India. They added that it had been known for some time that Sun was hiding near Kobe, where he had many friends.

AUTOS BUMPED BESIDE ROAD

ORANGE, Oct. 17.—A young woman inexperienced in driving an automobile and confused by the lights of an approaching car was responsible for a brush between a Ford and a Regal last night on the Anaheim road.

B. Edwards, a real estate man, was going to Anaheim in his Ford to attend an anti-saloon rally. In the car with him were Misses Rose and Nobbs, high school teachers, and Miss Nobbs' sister.

The Regal was driven by an Anaheim girl. Blinded by Edwards' lights, she lost control of the car and tried to dodge by going into a ditch, but the Regal smashed into the side of the car and went on a short distance. The Ford had a fender torn out and the Regal lost a wheel. Edwards and Miss Nobbs were severely bruised.

GRADUATE OF HIGH SCHOOL DIED TODAY

Word was received here this morning that Lloyd Avery, who graduated from the Santa Ana High School last June, died in Los Angeles this morning.

Young Avery was an exceptionally fine fellow, and in his high school career made a mark for himself as a student and orator. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Avery of El Toro. He had been in Los Angeles recently going to school.

GROVE JOHNSON ILL

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 17.—Word has been received here that Grove L. Johnson, father of Governor Hiram W. Johnson, and his wife are on their way home from Europe.

SULZER OUSTED FROM OFFICE OF GOVERNOR

IMPEACHED BY VOTE OF 43 TO 12

Convicted on Articles 1, 2, and 4—Unanimously Cleared on Article Three

GLYNN IS SWORN IN AS GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK

Sulzer Not Downcast—Planning to Run for Governorship at Next Election

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Governor William Sulzer was removed from office by the impeachment court today by a vote of 43 to 12. The court found him guilty on article one of the impeachment proceedings, falsifying his campaign contribution list; also articles two and four, which charged that the former executive's statement to the secretary of state was perjury, and that Sulzer suppressed evidence before the investigating committee by threatening witnesses. On all the other five articles of impeachment Governor Sulzer was found not guilty by unanimous vote.

After voting separately on all the articles the impeachment court voted the governor out of office, but did not disqualify him from holding office in the future. Following the vote removing the governor from office the impeachment court adjourned sine die.

FOUR ARTICLES VOTED ON AT YESTERDAY'S SESSION

Governor Sulzer was found guilty yesterday afternoon by the court of impeachment on three of the articles preferred against him. They were one, two and four. He was declared innocent of the charges contained in article three.

The vote on articles one and two was 39 to 18.

The members of the court all explained their votes.

Presiding Judge Edgar M. Cullen voted "not guilty" on every article and rendered a long opinion in explaining his votes.

He held that the offenses charged in articles one and two were not impeachable and that the governor neither falsified his statement under the provisions of the election law nor committed "legal perjury."

"The rule here contended for," he said, "amounts in reality to ex post facto disqualification from office for an offense which had no such penalty when committed, without affording an opportunity to show either repentance or atonement. Men have committed serious crimes, even felonies, and subsequently attained high public positions."

GLynn Sworn in as Governor
Secretary of State May swore Lieutenant Governor Martin H. Glynn into office as governor a few minutes before 1 o'clock. The new governor, who has been acting governor since the impeachment of Sulzer, made no inaugural address. The new chief executive is an Albany newspaper owner.

Governor Glynn issued a short formal statement late this afternoon in which he said he felt only sadness in succeeding Governor Sulzer. He pledged an honest and progressive administration.

Sulzer Is Not Downcast
Sulzer was not downcast by the action of the court, but was already planning to run for the governorship at the next election, expressing confidence that he would win. While Sulzer recognized that the court was merciful in acquitting him on the charge of bribing witnesses before the committee, which investigated his use of campaign contributions, conviction of which would have opened the way for criminal proceedings, he is not thankful for this mercy, believing that Tammany, having succeeded in removing him, does not care to press the matter further. The ex-governor plans to go to the Adirondacks on Sunday night to recuperate from the strain of the impeachment trial, the result of which ended an unbroken public service of twenty-four years.

When seen after his removal from office, Samuel Thomas, one of his attorneys, Sulzer looked up from his desk in the executive mansion, smiled and wished his visitor good day. He said he had already heard how the case resulted, and added with emphasis that he had only just begun to fight.

Mrs. Hurwitz has a sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Greenberg and family, of Chicago, visiting her. A sister from Los Angeles is also at the Hurwitz home.

CHRONOLOGY OF POLITICAL CAREER OF WM. SULZER

ALBANY, Oct. 17.—William Sulzer was elected to the New York legislature in 1889; speaker in 1893; was elected to congress in 1894, serving continuously till 1913; was elected governor of New York on Nov. 6, 1913; inaugurated on Jan. 1, 1913. On April 25 announced fight for state-wide primary; on August 11 was reported by Frawley committee of legislature as having diverted public campaign funds to his private use, legislature adopting the report.

On August 14, Sulzer was impeached by the assembly in a vote of 79 to 45, charged with high crimes and misdemeanors; Aug. 19, yielded office to Lieut. Gov. Glynn; Sept. 18, Sulzer impeachment court composed of senate and judges of Court of Appeals, convened at Albany; October 16, thirty-nine members of impeachment court voted guilty on impeachment articles 1, 2 and 4, clearing Sulzer on article 3; Oct. 17, impeachment court removed Sulzer from office of governor by vote of 43 to 12.

PARTNERSHIP IN QUESTION

Graham Sues Bressel, Who He Says is Keeping All the Money

O. L. Graham says he is a partner of L. Bressel, and Graham wants half the income and half of the proceeds of selling the property, which consists of forty-one head of cattle and a dairy outfit near Stanton.

Graham has brought suit against Bressel, and C. C. Ridgway has been appointed receiver of the dairy. Attorney Heathman took out injunction papers last night so that they could be served on Bressel in time to head off an auction sale of the dairy stock today.

Graham's complaint stated that he and Bressel became partners on Nov. 8, 1912. Lately there has been violent dissension concerning the business, and Bressel seems to have taken full possession. Graham alleges that Bressel pocketed $400 received from the Los Angeles Creamery for milk delivered to it in September.

Last night the curtain fell on the practice of what is said to be one of the greatest interscholastic foot ball games to be played this season. This is the first game ever staged on these grounds and will probably be the largest athletic attraction this year.

TWO AMERICANS KILLED IN MEXICO

25 Other Foreigners Menaced by Same Mob—Escape by Aid of Rurales

REPORT OF PLOT TO ASSASSINATE HUERTA

Guard Doubled About Mexican Capital—Washington Sees Small Hope Early Peace

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17.—

Two Americans, Thomas Barrett, mine manager, and William Kendall, were slain by Mexicans today at Eostotipacillo, state of Jalisco, according to dispatches received here. Twenty-five other foreigners, threatened by the same mob that killed Barrett and Kendall, escaped with the aid of Rurales.

Unrest in Capital
Unrest prevailed here today as the result of the continued resignation of Huerta officials. Gen. Huerta has said nothing publicly in regard to the report that he intended to resign and turn governmental affairs over to Lascurain.

PLOT TO ASSASSINATE HUERTA IS REPORTED
VERA CRUZ, Oct. 17.—Rumors that a plot to assassinate Provisional President Huerta was discovered in Mexico City last night were circulated today. Dispatches from the Mexican capital said that the guards about the capitol had been doubled, but no details were given.

WASHINGTON SEES NO EARLY SOLUTION OF MEXICAN TANGLE
WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Hope of an early solution of the political tangle in Mexico was abandoned today by government officials. President Wilson is reported as irrevocably determined to no longer deal with the Huerta regime. It is said that further steps toward bringing peace to Mexico are being considered.

A rift in the clouds came when it was reported that General Carranza, the rebel leader, was negotiating with Huerta to secure peace by naming Pedro Lascurain as provisional president, the restoration of congress and an early election.

The policy of the United States has been to make complete the record of having attempted to handle the problem by peaceful means. Strong pressure has recently been brought to bear upon the President and Secretary Bryan to give the Constitution an opportunity to compose the situation through the support of this country. The negotiations reported as being made by Carranza will be welcomed.

new defenses, forming new interference and trying out special, made-to-order fancy plays to baffle the Quakers next Saturday. Last night's practice showed Santa Ana in remarkable condition. When the maroon squad goes into the fracas it will have a defence resembling a stone wall backed up by an interference that ought to worry the aggression from the foothill towns. Every night this week has seen the foot ball men in one of the hardest work-outs known and they ought to be in perfect shape when they line up for the kick-off Saturday.

Although it is not sure, this game is very liable to decide the championship. Beside the honor and glory in winning this, Spaulding Bros. is giving a beautiful large loving cup as a permanent trophy to the winners.

Whittier Looks Good
After looking the Whittier team over last night the question is settled that there will be a big fight to finish for honors Saturday. Whittier is in possession of one of the liveliest full-backs in the conference. Besides this big demon of a full-back they have several very fancy fake plays, any of which may prove fatal to Santa Ana. It is a clutch that Santa Ana will be out-weighted nearly ten pounds to the man and will be at a great disadvantage when it comes to straight foot ball or line bucking. Probably there will be more yards made Saturday by trick plays than can be gained by straight line bucks.

The Poets' coach seems to think that there is absolutely no chance for Santa Ana to win and that by any means nothing short of a victory can possibly be handed to Whittier, so is up to Santa Ana to tear in and break this sort of noise up.

It being that the coaches of the two teams are equally confident of winning and the two teams are in perfect shape, something fairly decent ought to show itself in Saturday's game. The fracas is scheduled for 2:30 p. m.

HANFORD TO RECITE THE STORY OF CAPT. SCOTT

Charles B. Hanford, Noted Shakespearean Actor, Especially Engaged as the Lecturer with the Captain Scott Antarctic Motion Pictures at the Grand.

After more than twenty-five years of intimate association with Shakespearean roles and other classics, Charles B. Hanford will step upon the stage at the Grand Opera House next Sunday and Monday afternoons and evenings in a new role.

The Paramount Company Ltd., of London, is responsible for Mr. Hanford's departure from the plays with which he has been so long identified. Negotiations were pending for several weeks before arrangements were finally consummated. The pictures were first seen by Mr. Hanford in New York, then later in his home city, Washington, D. C. He had been interested in the events of Captain Scott's Polar Expedition and was one of those invited to the first and special exhibition given in New York City.

Mr. Hanford has embodied the booking for a Shakespearean tour, had all his scenery and costumes placed in storage and will remain a year to describe with his vibrant voice the tale of heroism left to history by Captain Scott and his brave companions.

If told that he was won by the "Movies" Mr. Hanford would tell you that it was not the moving pictures in the common acceptance of the term, but the "Jure of the horizon" that he could not resist just the same as the intrepid Scott could not resist the constant call of the horizon as it beckoned him to unknown worlds. The call of this thrilling and wondrous tale of adventure and the grip of the all-conquering art of the cinematograph—a grip not easily resisted when once these pictures have been seen—was heard by Mr. Hanford and he readily answered it.

"Swineburne said, 'Great things gained are gone; but great things done endure,'" says Hanford, "and as I feel sure that Scott's work will endure, that is why I am telling his heroic tale. Another reason is that the pictures contain all the pathos of the drama, all the laughter of comedy, while the story itself fairly vibrates with realism as few plays do."

FALL AND WINTER WOOLENS

DRESS has been described as the outward sign of the inward consideration for other people's feelings. It is more than this. It is the hall mark of what we are. Through our clothes we are estimated by the world, judged by our friends and appraised by casual acquaintances and business associates. Our manner of dress shows the manner of man we are, and the impression carried by our clothes is never wrong. The canons of good taste in dress are rooted in appreciation for artistic things. Correctness in fashion shows a desire to court the good opinion of others. The man of good clothes judgment knows there is a big difference in tailoring. He recognizes the superiority of Lutz & Co. garments because they represent the highest degree of style, quality and individuality.

Tailor Made Suits At Ready Made Prices

SOCIAL ITEMS

At Jefferson School

The Parent-Teacher Association of Jefferson school held a splendid meeting yesterday afternoon, the president, Mrs. Shepherd, presiding. Committees were appointed to serve through the coming school year, which promises to be a most interesting and beneficial term for the association. Arrangements were made and a committee appointed to help with the exhibit that is planned to be given soon by the City Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations.

Mrs. Deimling gave a most interesting paper on "Civics and the Home," making a plea for the school, the home garden and the care of vacant city lots.

Songs were sung by the second and third grades and at the close of the business session a pleasant social time was spent, the refreshment committee serving most delicious punch and wafers.

W. R. C. Meeting

The W.R.C. had a good and profitable business meeting yesterday with a good attendance and excellent reports. Two visitors were present from Fullerton, but formerly of Santa Ana, Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Hogle, both of whom in a few well chosen words expressed their delight in being among old friends again.

Two applications for membership were received, and there were two initiations, Mrs. Emma Chapman and Mrs. Augusta Davis.

The quilt the ladies have been working on this week was spread out for inspection, and a rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. Andrew Getty for the gift of the quilt, and Colonel Fields for the marking, which is truly "patriotic" in every detail, with its stars of red, white and blue.

In the near future the W.R.C. will give a chicken dinner, the date of which will be announced later.

Miss Lucille Moody of Hemet, who is a classmate of Miss Lucy Hill at Los Angeles Normal School, will accompany Miss Hill home this evening. Tomorrow morning the two young ladies and Albert Hill and Elmer Deaver will go by automobile to Hemet, where they will visit relatives for a day or two. Miss Moody's father is the pastor of the Hemet Baptist church.

Mrs. J. W. Shaul spent today in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Albert Field was a visitor to the angel city today.

Mrs. Dr. Menges is spending a day or two in Los Angeles with relatives. Mrs. H. E. Smith and her daughter, Mrs. Levia Allen of Los Angeles, went to Newport Beach today to remain until tomorrow evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Calk of Los Angeles visited in this city this week with Mrs. Calk's brother, Thoe, A. with Mrs. Calk's brother, Theo. A. yesterday for Tucson, Arizona, where he and his sons are interested in a desert land enterprise. They were pioneer residents of this city.

OUNG men today are the recognized leaders in the professions, business, politics and society.

They set the pace. Others follow. And young men have long been the recognized dictators of styles in men's clothes.

The rest of the world wears what they decide upon.

Our clothes are popular among smartly dressed young men. They know the name and label are the best and final guides to correct style.

They know that our name stands for the All-Wool policy. That every garment is hand-tailored. That the fit is the sure result of combined quality and style.

Are you a leader? Do good clothes appeal to you? Then give a thought to the new models we have on display.

NO CHANGE IN METHOD OF SELECTING BISHOP

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Though no definite announcement has been made, it was learned positively today that the House of Bishops at the Episcopal Church convention refused to change the manner of selecting the American primate. The presiding bishop now holds his rank by seniority, and the change contemplated was choice by vote of the house. The decision is regarded as a victory for the low churchmen.

NO MORE RETICENCES

The ten commandments are becoming, each in its turn, the fad of the hour. Only a little while ago it was the eighth commandment, and every other play, from "The Man of the Hour" to Kolb and Dill, dealt with graft. But the eighth commandment is too stale for the stage now; it is full three years old, and we have now discovered the seventh, which, being more interesting, may last longer.

Discussing this phase of histrionic evolution, the Fresno Republican points out that "the last three plays in Fresno, for instance, have dealt all with the same subject; the one classically, with an ancient courtesan, and the others realistically with modern prostitution. There were no reticences in any of them.

"That, in fact, is the most striking feature of the new fad. There are no longer any reticences. Nothing is veiled, in either dress or word. The only limit to modern undress is the point at which it is regarded as more alluring to suggest than to reveal. And speech, more modest than dress, has ceased even suggesting and reveals in the naked truth. Nothing is unmentionable these days nor unprintable. A few years ago if one of these brothel plays had managed to escape the police, no woman would have attended it, and no man would have confessed doing so. Now, most exemplary young couples attend quite as a matter of course, and do not think it necessary either to apologize or to brazen it out. No question of morals is involved; the plays are moral enough. It is a mere question of reticence, and that has ceased to exist. You can discuss in mixed company now what you once locked the doors before discussing in separate company. You can print in the Ladies' Home Journal now what once was locked in the reserved shelves of printed in a medical book. And you can tell tales to the Dorcas society now which you once scarcely dared report to the police commission. And all in the name of a more Puritan morality than has been preached since Jonathan Edwards died.

"It is no use asking, 'What are we coming to?' We have come. You can wear anything; you can say anything; you can do anything. The wearing may be ugly, the saying may be false, the doing may be wrong. If so, then for these faults they are condemned. But there is no requirement to hide them, even then."

CLAIMING TOO MUCH

The Oroville Register seems to be carried away with the idea that we shall not ship many oranges from Southern California this year. The Butte county crop is admittedly short, being estimated at less than 200 cars. The Register thinks, however, that Tulare county will make the big showing this year. It says:

"Tulare county will ship more oranges this year than any of the other counties of the South. The frost last spring did practically no damage to the trees in that section, and the growers in that district are looking forward to a crop which will exceed all previous records. While in previous years they have never shipped much more than 3000 cars, they expect to ship fully 4000 this season."

To this the Riverside Press files a demurrer, which the Register is quite ready to sustain. "Unless some untoward climatic events seriously diminish the crop now on the trees," says the Press, "no important citrus producing country in Southern California will ship less than 4000 cars of oranges this year. Riverside county should ship close to 4000 cars and 1000 cars of lemons in addition. San Bernardino, which has a larger citrus area, expects to market some 7000 cars. Los Angeles county will have

O, HOW YOUNG WE ARE--AND THE WORLD, HOW OLD

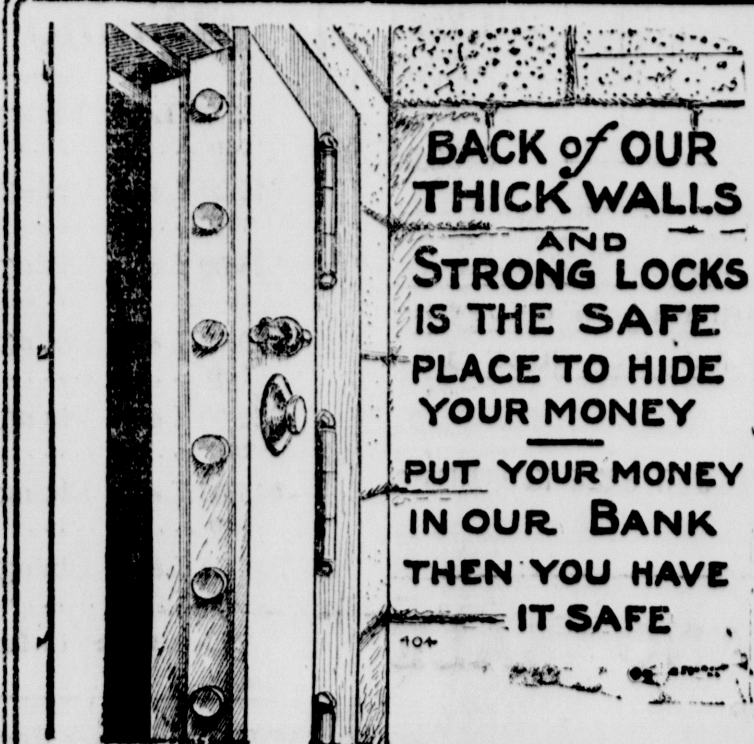

A little clay tablet on which, if the scholars are right, a Babylonian boy 4000 years ago wrote his lessons, has been dug up in the ruins of Nippur. Dr. Langdon of the University of Pennsylvania says that this boy studied geography, history, grammar, geology and theology.

If he had lived he would now be about 4212 years old. Yet there he sat forty-two centuries ago, making marks with his little stylus, quite oblivious of the dizzy space of time to come. Perhaps his thoughts were wandering, as he made those very marks, to that strange little-boy life of his in old Babylon.

What did he do when he was not going to school? What did he have to eat and what stories did his mother tell him when he found it hard to go to sleep? What did he most want to be? A priest? A soldier? A builder? Did he have love affairs, in his gay Babylonian youth, and what became of the girls--gay, pretty young girls, with no thought of forty years, much less of forty centuries--that he used to laugh with?

Poor little victim of the ages! The mind reels at the thought of him and the heart grows sad. We moderns are so very young and the world is so very old.

THE LOZIER HAS COME TO TOWN

W. D. Burke, manager of the wholesale department of the Beekins-Speers Motor Co., of Los Angeles, was in this city today closing a contract with R. L. Draper, 415 W. Fourth street, for the handling of the Lozier in Orange county. The Beekins-Speers Motor Co. is distributor of the Lozier for California, Arizona and Nevada, and is fortunate in securing Mr. Draper to handle their Orange county territory. The Lozier headquarters in this county will be at the Cartier Car Garage--Mr. Draper also handles the Cartier Car--415 West Fourth street. The Lozier is somewhat of an aristocrat among automobiles--that is, it is a strictly high-class car, but sells at a medium price.

BOUGHT IT FOR $4: IS NOW WORTH $400

Santa Ana Bulletin: Theo. Ford, who lives west of the river on Anaheim road, says his land is one of the striking examples of "before and after taken" in this valley. It is not many years ago since he bought it for $4 an acre and now it is worth $400--and still going up.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

100 Parents and Teachers of High School Assembled in New Poly High School

On yesterday afternoon the parents of the high school pupils showed they were vastly interested in the new building and the work in general, for one hundred persons assembled in the beautiful large music room where a program was enjoyed, and the business of starting the regular meetings of the association was attended to. The new officers were in their places and presided over the meeting. Mrs. Winbigler as president, Miss Brockett as recording secretary, and Mrs. Anna Gale as treasurer. A reception committee composed of Mrs. E. H. McElree, Mrs. W. B. Tedford, Mrs. W. L. Grubb, Miss Gowdy and Mrs. Lea Warren met the parents and escorted them to the rooms and over the building.

The program opened with a piano solo by Miss Linna Yarnell. Principal McMath then spoke on the work as it is being conducted in the new polytechnic school, it being a school where pupils are trained in the shops, repair work and farming, and at the same time the regular high school work is not lost sight of, as the special work of preparing pupils for college is better cared for than ever. He spoke of the new cafeteria, which is now open for the benefit of those who live too far away to go home at noon. Prof. McMath said that it is not complete, but that improvement both in food and in prices will be made soon, and that everyone must wait and bear with present disadvantages until the school was in more of a complete state.

Miss Faith Shaw rendered a vocal solo, accompanied by Miss Emily West. Following this Prof. Cranston gave a very practical talk on the general outlook for the future of the new polytechnic school. He said he was proud of the plant established; it will be the pride of Santa Ana for many years. The pupils are proud of the new buildings, and realizing the incompleteness of the plant, are ready to adapt themselves to the circumstances, looking forward to better conditions when all is completed. Prof. Cranston suggested that the Parent-Teacher Association plan for furnishing decorations suitable for the music room, the history room, the literature room, etc.; that a step in this line will be appreciated. Mrs. Tedford very enthusiastically spoke of the beauty of the buildings. She stated that she did not see the dust, only the beautiful buildings. She also evinced much enthusiasm in her expression of how the new poly high was secured.

Miss Dorothy Dean gave a piano solo, and Mrs. E. H. McElree, president of the City Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations, then announced that the ways and means committee, seeing need of money for use in various ways for the new buildings, planned an exhibit to be held in the old commercial building on North Main street, when old relics, art and curios will be shown. The price of admission will be 10 cents. The time will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons of next week, Oct. 23-24. She said anything to help out the exhibit will be gladly received. A small prize will be given the school showing the best exhibit.

The president, Mrs. Winbigler, made an earnest plea for the parents and teachers to become members of the association by paying 25 cents dues. A large number joined the association by paying their dues. Mrs. Anna Gale is treasurer and will receive dues. The regular time for the meetings is the first Thursday in each month. The president appointed Mrs. Utt, Mrs. Dean and Miss Weber as the committee to prepare the next program. The following committees were appointed for the year: Press, Mrs. Lea Warren; membership, Mrs. W. B. Tedford, Mrs. Gale and Mrs. Gould; reception, Mrs. Dr. Wehrly, Mrs. Wallace and Miss Gowdy; advisory mothers—Freshmen, Mrs. Kendall, Mrs. Roper; sophomores, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. McMath; juniors, Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Yarness; seniors, Mrs. McElree, Mrs. Grubb.

After the close of the program a social time was held during which the parents became acquainted with the teachers and looked over the buildings. Misses Arvilla Hall and Isabella Anderson served fruitade and wafers in the hall.

Pleasant Meeting
The Emma Sanson Chapter, U.D.C., met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Mayfield on Fifth and Spurgeon streets. The first part of the afternoon was given to a business session during which Miss Gertrude Montgomery was elected as a delegate to the national convention of the Daughters of the Confederacy to be held in New Orleans in November.

The subject for the month to be discussed by the local chapter is "Gettysburg," and readings on the topic were given by Miss Montgomery and Miss Read.

Fancy work, conversation and the enjoyment of dainty refreshments served by the hostess took up the rest of the time after the program's conclusion.

Or is it a ribbed wool garment you want—with ribbed cuffs and ankles—and made of a grade of wool that will not irritate the flesh—but has a clean, satisfying feel—and at a price of $2 the suit?

Whatever your wishes—you will find the salesman who serves you here will do his very best to sell you the underwear you really need.

Always Reliable

Mrs. C. W. Burns Entertains
The ladies of the Young Married People's Class of the First Methodist church were delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. W. Burns. The rooms were beautifully decorated with sunflowers, chrysanthemums and roses.

The principal object of this gathering was to organize the ladies of the class into a young woman's home missionary society. Mrs. H. A. Wassum presented the matter to the ladies present, then a deaconess, Miss Van Dam, who was down from Los Angeles, gave a very interesting talk on the work that might be done by such an organization, making a strong appeal for help in the many branches of home missionary work.

The ladies of the class then organized into a Young Woman's Home Missionary Society, with the following officers: President, Mrs. Wassum; vice president, Mrs. Geo. Hell; recording secretary, Mrs. D. W. Stearns; corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. C. Blauer; treasurer, Mrs. E. H. McMath.

About thirty-five ladies were present, and after business was disposed of a good social time was enjoyed, the hostess serving delicious refreshments of pumpkin pie, doughnuts and coffee.

SIGNIFICANT SHIFT OF U. S. FROM BEEF EXPORTING TO BEEF IMPORTING COUNTRY

The recent transfer of the United States from the small list of beef-exporting countries to the large list of beef-importing countries is sharply illustrated by the August figures of imports and exports of beef and beef cattle and a comparison thereof with the August figures of earlier years just made by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce. This shows that the exports of beef and beef cattle have fallen from 44 million dollars value in the eight months ended with August, 1904, to practically one million in the corresponding months of 1913, and that the imports of cattle meantime increased from 9357 in the eight months of 1904 to 340,105 in the same period of 1913, and their value from $31,145 in 1904 to $5,031,842 in 1913. As to beef, the imports in 1904 were insufficient to justify their statement month by month, and the total value of beef imported for consumption in the full fiscal year 1904

420 In Vatican-- First Census Taken in 50 Years

ROME, Oct. 17.—The Vatican today announced the result of the first census which has been taken within the walls in fifty years. Italy's law guaranteeing the liberty of the Pope prohibits entrance within the Vatican of any official of the Italian government for the performance of any duty whatsoever. As a consequence, a census taker couldn't get into the sacred walls.

The Vatican announces it has within its walls just 420 people. These include the Swiss guards and gendarmes, the employees generally, the household of the Pope, and Pope Pius himself.

SPAIN WILL HEAR CALIFORNIA SONG

Mrs. Ella Atkins of This State to Sing It as Soprano of the Madrid Royal Opera

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—Even the Spaniards of little old Spain are going to be familiar with F. B. Silverwood's song of the state, "I Love You, California."

Miss Ella R. Atkins, who recently refused to close a contract with the Royal Opera of Madrid until after the coming state tour of the California Shriners, yesterday morning received a long cablegram from her manager in Europe and as a result she will close a contract to accept the soprano role for the coming season in Madrid's famous opera company.

Miss Atkins vows she will sing whenever and wherever she can on Spain's soil "I Love You, California." "And once they hear it and get it into their system it will spread as it has in the United States."

Miss Atkins will be heard for the first time since her triumphant return from abroad at Santa Barbara, October 21.

It has been decided that even those deprived of their liberty may have the opportunity of hearing the $10, 000,000 band of 127 pieces and not only Miss Atkins sing "I Love You, California," but Franz Helle and his $5000 Flugelhorn.

The California Shriners will go to the shores of San Quentin and play outside of the gray walls of the penitentiary.

When down town and thirsty stop at Taylor's. The best soda, the best and purest creams and fruits and always the best service.

CONCLUSIONS OF EXPERT IN CRIME

Dr. Phelan Tells Prison Congress Most People Have Criminal Tendencies

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 17.—If a criminal expert looked you over, studied you and rendered his decision, declaring that you have many characteristics, attributes and habits of a criminal, you'd probably "hit the ceiling," but according to a classification of criminals given today before the American Prison Congress it would appear that there are mighty few people but what have "criminal characteristics." Dr. Phelan, who spoke at the closing sessions of the congress today on "The Mental Factor in Crime," is surgeon of the Dominion Penitentiary at Kingston, Ontario. He has studied classification of criminals, and criminal tendencies specially and is noted as one of the most famous experts in the world along these lines. His classifications therefore should be intensely interesting. He enumerated nine classes as follows:

Criminal from adventure, who started reading "penny dreadful" novels—not necessarily bad—may be redeemed; criminal from weak mentality—not insane but whose mentality is not up to the normal—to this class belongs degenerates—when around are dangerous—will murder for slight gain; insane criminal who has irresistible impulses to commit notoriously anti-social acts; accidental criminal, or "criminal by passion"—generally a man of good reputation who, owing to peculiar sensitiveness attempts life or seeks revenge for insult to himself or one dear to him; incurable criminal—morally depraved or completely unmoral—beyond any possible hope of improvement—enemy of society—absolutely defiant of law and authority; habitual criminal—generally intelligent—forms fully 50 per cent of all prisoners—presents some form of mental aberration which accounts for anti-social acts—epileptics belong to this class; occasional criminal who yields to some sudden temptation—usually manifests marked instability of character which easily is aggravated by trouble or worry—unless treated early, soon becomes habitual criminal; professional criminal who represents aristocracy of criminal world—little or no moral responsibility—boastful—conceited—cunning—generally heartless and lacking in pity; instinctive criminal—moral monster devoid of social guiding instincts—sensual—selfish—brutal—commits crime for the love of it—incapable of reform.

Other speakers and their subjects day were: "Some Important Types of Delinquents," Dr. William Healy, director Juvenile Psychopathic Institute and president of the Physicians' Association, Chicago; "Responsibility and Crime," Miss Elizabeth S. Kite, Vineland (N. J.) Training School.

Reports of committees on statistics of crime, discharged prisoners and a meeting of the National Prisoner's Aid Association were on yesterday's program. The congress closes this evening with a report of the committee on criminal law reform and addresses by Charles Marshall and Nathan W. McChesney, Chicago.

"V" TO BE OMITTED FROM U. S. FIVE DOLLAR BILLS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has hit fancy lettering another knockout blow by ordering that the numeral "five" be used henceforth instead of the "V."

It is not decided as yet whether this will mean that the numeral will supplant the time honored "V" on five-dollar bills. There will be no recall of present five-dollar bills that are extant with the "V" instead of the numeral on them.

AVOID CATARRH

Breathe Hyomei—It Medicates
the Air You Breathe and Instantly Relieves

Why continue to suffer from catarrh, stopped up head, husky voice, and other troubles of the breathing organs, when there is an absolutely certain, scientific remedy at hand.

Hyomei is the remedy. It is a pleasant, harmless and antiseptic medication which you breathe through a small inhaler. Breathing a few times daily through the inhaler charges the air with this germ-killing antiseptic. Catarrhal discharges, sniffles, foul breath, watery eyes and the formation of crusts in the nose are promptly relieved by this medicated air.

It is guaranteed by Rowley Drug Co. to do it, or money back. A complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a strong, hard rubber pocket inhaler and a bottle of Hyomei costs only $1.00, and extra bottles, if afterwards needed, are only 50 cents each. Druggists everywhere sell Hyomei.

Use Hyomei for bronchitis, coughs and cold in the head, husky voice, croup of infants, and any inflammatory diseases of the breathing organs.—Advertisement.

ITALIAN FINANCIER DISCUSSES CURRENCY REFORM IN AMERICA

Sees Good Features in Proposed New Law, but Advises Central Bank—Believes Wilson Will Get Good Law

ROME, Oct. 16.—That a permanent and successful currency reform in the United States can only be effected by the establishment of a central bank of control—not, however, under the direction of bankers as advocated by former Senator Aldrich—is the belief of Luigi Luzzatti, former prime minister of Italian finances, former prime minister of Italy, and who recently refused the post of financial advisor to the new Chinese republic. In an article prepared by him for the United Press he today gives his views on the proposed currency legislation in the United States, as follows:

By HON. LUIGI LUZZATTI
Former Prime Minister of Italy and Ex-Minister of Finance.
(Written for the United Press.)

There has already been noted the clamor with which the Americans of the United States decided upon some time ago and completed their investigation of the question of banks of issue for the purpose of reforming their present inadequate currency system.

At that time all Europe was leveled upon for information and Italy's contribution was completely made by Signor Canonici. I did not at that time make any comment, not because of lack of courtesy or lack of interest, but merely because I was then at the head of the government. Now, I must admit, I am not sorry I kept silent. In fact, the proposed laws for the reform of the currency in the United States, which have followed the investigation into the question of banks of issue, appear to me most strange. It is not indeed, to be wondered at at that no one, not even President Wilson, is satisfied with them.

In the first place, I believe, former Senator Aldrich, who was the moving genius of the currency investigation, wished to create a single central bank administered by bankers. His plan was open to many criticisms, both in substance and in form, but the idea, however, of a single central bank is unquestionably the right one. Now, I believe, the latest proposed law would furnish a bank note currency, created by the national government, to twelve different authorized banks of issue or emission which in turn would secure the bank notes to the national government by commercial paper and which would maintain a guarantee reserve fund of 33 1/3 per cent of gold or other legal money. This certainly is a more exact conception of good banking rules, the issuing of bank currency on commercial paper and the guaranteeing in part of the currency thus issued by a reserve fund of gold or other legal money. In this way is ended the persistence in the old times of error of covering the bank currency with government bonds. It is in fact merely the adoption of the new system which has already been generally in vogue in Europe for some time past, and which the United States alone has been slow to adopt.

However, leaving to one side the considerations aroused by the twelve banks of emission, which is opposed to the present day tendency of unity—the only tendency, as is to be seen in Switzerland, that is capable of regulating opportunely the currency, the slight exchange, the inward and outward flow of gold—who is going to decide upon the severity of the discounting of the commercial paper? Either, in one way or another the state will take a hand and politics will thus enter in, discrediting the responsibility of the bank, or each individual administration of the twelve banks will act independently and there will be twelve different standards of discounting, either severe or lax (according to the competition of other banks, a spirit of absolute rigidity, etc., etc.) which will determine the soundness of the bank currency in circulation, in which case the doubts thus created will react in moments of financial crisis on the banks of emission themselves, thus aggravating the condition of the industrial markets.

In fact, the grand studies which have been made by the United States upon the currency question have up to the present moment resulted only in grand confusion and the United States has failed to have the courage shown by another sister republic—that of Switzerland, which also had several banks of emission in the different cantons as at Geneva and elsewhere, and which, after many quiet investigations, with the usual Swiss way of doing things, finished with instituting a single central bank of state. This approach to the highest type of the German empire, which holding onto the vital forces of the old institutions, enjoys a happy autonomy, succeeds in guaranteeing perfectly its bank notes, and above all serves the national circulation instead of making the national circulation serve it, thus improving the exchange with foreign countries and diminishing the outflow of the metal currency.

However, one cannot lose hope that President Wilson, who succeeded in obtaining his tariff reform, will succeed also in securing sound and healthy principles in the control and issuance of the national currency.

PREFERRED DEATH BY GUN TO FLAMES

Unidentified Man With Revolver Clutched in Hand Found in Tamalpais Fire Path

MILL VALLEY, Cal., Oct. 17.—That an unidentified man trapped by the forest fire that recently swept the lower reaches of Mount Tamalpais preferred death by his own revolver to torture by flames, is the belief of residents here today following the discovery of a charred body near Westpoint Inn. Only a portion of the right leg, shoulder and arm and skull were left the remainder having been incinerated. The right hand clutched a revolver. There appeared to be no means of identification. The body was discovered by a youth and a maid who wandered away from a picnic party.

KILLED DUCKS BEFORE SUNUP

Three Men Arrested by Federal Officer for Hunting Too Early

With Uncle Sam's deputies sunrise means sunrise and it does not mean five minutes before sunrise or half an hour before sunrise.

Three duck hunters near Huntington Beach found this out Wednesday morning when Deputy United States Marshal Reynolds of Los Angeles nabbed them. The three men are R. Williamson, F. L. Jamison and Sam Beasley. Reynolds has charged them with shooting at ducks before sunrise. The state law, by which duck hunting was regulated until the federal law went into effect on Oct. 2, allows hunting from a half-hour before sunrise until a half-hour after sunset. The federal law on migratory law makes it from sunrise to sunset. It is reported that the federal authorities in Los Angeles have been informed that the opening hour law is likely to be violated frequently in the ducklands of this county, and it is further reported that if it is the federal authorities will make things hot for the violators.

MOTHER! IS CHILD'S STOMACH SOUR, SICK?

If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

Missionary Meeting
The meeting of the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church was held Thursday afternoon at the church. The scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Chas. Eells and was followed by prayer by Mrs. Blew and Mrs. Martin.

Several matters of business were discussed and decided.

The program for the evening was in charge of Mrs. Tubbs and Mrs. Eells, and the subject was: "Mormon Power, Purpose and Plans." Mrs. Tubbs read a series of interesting clippings from different journals giving information on the subject. These quotations were arranged and read so as to give a good understanding of the policy of the Mormons and some of their practices as well as professions, Mormonism, what it is politically, commercially, and as a religion. Mrs. Eells was called upon to give some idea of the duty of the Presbyterian church in the premises. Mrs. Blew sang the beautiful song, "He Was Not Willing That Any Should Perish," accompanied by Mrs. Willard, after which the meeting adjourned.

The W.C.T.U. will cordially welcome all who will attend the reception to the Tustin school teachers tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cranston.

The teachers themselves will take part in the program, as well as others, and a delightful evening is anticipated.

Tustin Twelve
After a two months' vacation, this club has again resumed its meetings. The first full meeting was held with Mrs. Fred Poole last Tuesday afternoon. Those who attended were Mesdames Arthur Hofer, E. J. Cranston, Chas. Johnson, B. F. Nimmo, C. O. Artz, Fred Moorhead, J. S. House, G. W. Pollard, E. H. Smith, J. C. Stearns and Albert Fuller. Guests of the club were Mesdames Covington and Hoffman.

All were glad to be entertained once more by Mrs. Chas. Johnson's music and songs. The ideas interchanged over fancy work were as ever enjoyed by the congenial twelve, and there were the happenings to each during the vacation with which to entertain each other and the afternoon fled all too quickly.

White roses were used in decorating the house for the occasion and also in adorning the table upon which were served delicious cake, ice cream and fruitade.

The club has in anticipation a delightful day next Thursday. The members are invited to spend the day together with Mrs. Arthur Hofer at her cottage at Balboa. They will take their dinner and enjoy the day together at the beach.

They met at the church and came to his Tustin home in automobiles, bringing with them delicious refreshments and the evening was one much enjoyed from start to finish, with merry games and various stunts, all arranged for the occasion.

The crowning feature of the evening was the presentation of a handsome chair from the class to Mr. Saunby. Dr. Raugh made the presentation speech, which was responded to by Mr. Saunby, showing a warm appreciation.

Literature Section
The Tustin Literature Section will meet next Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Stutsman.

THIS IS THE AGE OF OIL

While the oil wells of California continue to pour out a daily average production of 284,284 barrels of petroleum and while the output of demand is not so large as the production, oil men are confident that it is only a question of a short while until the demand for California oil will largely exceed the supply. This belief is based on information that when the Panama Canal is opened there will be the greatest demand in the history of the petroleum industry for fuel oil. Regarding the coming of oil and the importance of the product as fuel the following from the Parisian edition of the London Mail will be found of unusual interest. It is from the pen of Alfred Stead, and gives facts relating to the coming of oil. The story follows:

Last Saturday it was announced in "The Daily Mail" that Lord Murray of Elphinstone, on his famous journey to Central America, had concluded a contract with the Government of Ecuador by which the great firm of W. S. Pearson and Co. obtains the right of exploiting the whole of Ecuador for oil. Facts such as these show that engineers are profoundly convinced of the importance of oil fuel to great Britain in the immediate future. The whole question is very ably and simply described by Mr. Stead in the following article:

It is no exaggeration to say boldly that we are standing on the threshold of the age of oil. The age of coal is passing and the age of oil is succeeding it. In a few years people will be wondering why coal was ever used in many of the ways which seem natural to us to-day—and this because experience will have taught them the advantage of oil. Any proposal then to revert to coal would be scouted as preposterous.

The oil age is coming not because the oil producer wants it, but because the coal producers do not want it; but simply because it has to come. The age demands progress, and there can be no question that oil spells progress over coal. It is, perhaps, more difficult for people in Great Britain, the country of coal, to realize clearly the coming of oil and the many advantages of the change; but go to a country without coal, and yet possessing factories and growing industries. Oil is that country's salvation. Cheap coal in Great Britain has been one of the great reasons why oil fuel has not come to its own before now—and yet it is the decision of the British Admiralty which has definitely opened the doors of the new era.

We may take it as certain that the day of coal in the Navy has ended, and that the intermediate stage has arrived when oil will be used to raise steam. How long we will be before the final stage is reached, when steam disappears, and all the vessels are propelled by the most economical of methods—the internal combustion propulsion engine—depends upon the science and invention of the constructors, who must devise and scheme to secure a minimum of 1000-h.p. per cylinder.

Pending the final experiments we may assume that the British Navy will shortly be burning oil and raising steam without stokers. In Germany, the United States and Japan there exist to-day many warships burning exclusively oil. An oil-burning fleet needs never to run to harbor to replenish its supply of fuel. At all points of the seas it can meet tramp oil carriers; in fact, it will be one of the most lucrative of business for neutral vessels during a naval war to hang about with cargoes of oil waiting a good chance.

The question of the stokehold is of supreme importance. An oil-fired vessel needs thirty greasers, as against three hundred or more stokers and trimmers needed for coal furnaces. This means in the entire British Navy a saving of many thousands of men, who will then be available for other branches of the Service. Anyone familiar with the prevailing conditions in the stokehold of a vessel using coal as a fuel will not easily forget the first visit to the boiler room of a ship burning oil in the furnaces. As a comparison of the same results obtained by different methods nothing can be more striking. In both cases the object aimed at is the production of steam. In the coal-fired vessel the stokehold is a very inferno of heat, coal dust, ashes and smoke.

How different is the picture which presents itself on a steamer using oil as fuel in place of coal. From great tanks placed at different stations the oil is brought by a pipe line to the space devoted to the storage of the material serving as a fuel on the steamer. This from the commencement does away with transport, which takes time, is very costly, and produces so much dirt and dust. In a mere fraction of the time necessary to coal a steamer this is fully charged with oil fuel by means which are exclusively mechanical. From the oil tanks of the vessel the liquid fuel is brought under pressure by pipes to the steam boilers. Once the oil has been ignited the regulation of the flame which plays upon the lower portion of the steam boiler and the surveillance of the temperature of the steam are the only occupation of the stoker, who can easily look after several boilers without further assistance. Thus there is no longer need of hand-stoking. The furnace doors are no longer open, the ashes and clinkers of coal are not cleaned out, and there exists no more in the stokehold that heat so dangerous to the human health. In fact, it is not an exaggeration when an oil fuel specialist compares remaining in such an oil fuel stokehold to a paradise, while in a stokehold where steam has to be raised by coal he could not describe it save as, literally, hell. Where oil is used as fuel one man, comfortably clad and in clean surroundings, does the work of ten grimy firemen and coal passers.

Another great advantage which the experts expect from the use of oil is that the fuel required for steaming a given distance will weigh much less than formerly. That means that a battleship can be given a greatly enlarged cruising radius, and that some of the weight which has heretofore been devoted to coal can now be given up to armament. It is estimated that the 400 tons of oil carried by the Delaware will increase her steaming radius not less than 1,000 miles.

One of the principal, perhaps the chief reason why oil must supplant coal on sea or land is the increasing cost of labor and the never diminishing difficulties in controlling it. Few more effective answers to Syndicalism could be imagined than the adoption of a system which would at once cut down the numbers employed by nine-tenths. It does not matter whether oil be derived from wells, from shale distillation or from treatment of coal. The advantages of its use are too great to admit of any idea that it will not be made use of. Coal burning on ships or in factories, with all its attendant disadvantages, is a survival of habit, and cannot hope to stand against the advantages of oil fuel. With oil there is no excitement or dirt, no labor. A pipe to be connected with the store of oil and a tap to be turned on—that is all. It is not necessary for anyone to look at the pipe or to trouble about it at all.

Enormous though the consumption of oil in the navies of the world will be, it dwindles into comparative insignificance beside the demand in connection with the mercantile marine. Warships may have oil fuel; cargo vessels must. That is the situation in a nutshell. Though practically unnoticed by the general public, the fact remains that the conditions of fishing along the East Coast of the British Islands has been well-nigh revolutionized in the last two years. Another three or four years will see a completion of the process, and the absolute conquest of the marine motor. The navies first and then the merchant marine. Later factories, railways and nearly every branch of national industry. Oil has come and will remain, until possibly gas or electricity supplant it. It has two leases of life. Since first it is used indirectly to raise steam, then it will be used directly as in the internal combustion motor. The time is not far distant when there will be little (or little in comparison to to-day) haulage of coal over the railways of Great Britain. Oil pipe lines running along the permanent ways will at the same time provide with a minimum of cost the needs of the system and carry fuel to thousands of industrial centers.

And yet much has been accomplished in the oil-fields of the world. The supply which Mother Nature has been storing up through the ages for the use and enrichment of man has as yet been but slightly drawn upon. Comparatively speaking its greatest revelations are to come.

Not only are oil tank carriers being equipped with oil burners for fuel but many other vessels are being fitted so that oil can be used as fuel. Speaking on this subject the London Petroleum Review, says: "No more striking evidence could be furnished of the continuous expansion in the international trade in petroleum products than the activity which is to-day noticeable in our great shipbuilding yards in the construction of new oil tankers to meet the rapidly growing importance of the petroleum trade."

"So far during the present year, some twenty-five new vessels have been launched, yet as these leave the stocks, other new tankers take their place, the result being one long run of activity in tank-steam construction. It is estimated that between now and the end of the present year almost twenty new tankers will have left their building stocks, though it is evident the science of the shipbuilder will be required for the next one or two years in oil-tanker construction before the orders now placed, or about to be given for new vessels, will be executed. Such is the state of the market for increased ocean oil transport facilities."

"Nor are all these new vessels required for any one particular branch of the oil-carrying trade; the new vessels will trade in practically the whole of the seas of the world with their liquid oil cargoes, and on behalf of varying interests, for monopoly in oil transport, in view of the enormous amount of finance involved, cannot but ever be an unrealizable dream."

"As the larger and more powerful oil companies are increasing the strength of their oil-carrying fleets, so, too, are the smaller oil-transport interests taking every advantage of the present unique opportunities for expansion. The result is that at the moment a gigantic new oil-carrying fleet is in progress of construction at the shipbuilding yards of this country."

"The use of the motor-propelled vessels for the purpose of ocean transport of petroleum products is gradually coming into popularity, it being evident that our English shipbuilding firms have taken the warning of Sir Marcus Samuel seriously to heart. The new motive power is already being installed in several of the new oil-tank carriers, and in this direction it is interesting to mention the fact that one French firm of ship-owners are equipping a large sailing ship with auxiliary motors, the vessel to be employed in the carrying of bulk oil across the North Atlantic."

"Added to this, the Admiralty have a number of contracts given out to English shipbuilders for the construction of vessels to carry bulk oil for Admiralty needs, while we understand that several foreign Governments are ready to place orders for ocean-going craft for similar purposes. There is no doubt that the healthy feeling which to-day permeates the petroleum industry is reflected in no branch more than in that of the building of oil-tankers."

Railroads throughout the United States are using more petroleum than ever for fuel, the Burlington System having just installed oil-burning locomotives on its Wyoming lines and the Black Hills Division and the Colorado & Southern lines between Cheyenne and Orin Junction, a minimum of 500 barrels per day is the amount contracted for. It is probable that within a short time, the Burlington will be using as much fuel oil as the Chicago & Northwestern, which buys upwards of 3,000 barrels a day from the Mid-West Oil Company.

DR. COOK SAYS HE DID NOT GIVE IT OUT

An explanation of the crop report which was given to the press as coming from Dr. A. J. Cook, the State Horticultural Commissioner, and which was vigorously attacked by Mr. J. P. Dargitz and commented upon by me in the columns of the Register of October 7th, has come from both these gentlemen. In bulletin 23 of Oct. 10th Mr. Dargitz says: "Our last bulletin has been very generally commented on by growers and packers, and later press reports substantiated the figures we contended for." In a letter dated Oct. 13th he says: "We have your favor of the 10th with newspaper clipping and are very much interested in the same. The time to put out fire is when we first discover the fire." "The strong statement that we put out in going after it, we think counteracted the effect that the false report might have had on the market."

Dr. Cook in a personal letter of Oct. 14th says: "Your favor of the 10th enclosing the clippings received. I thank you for the clippings."

"I wish you would correct the matter of the crop report. The report was not ours in any sense. We had not yet received all of the county reports. A reporter desired very much to see the county reports, and we handed them to him. He acknowledged that the crisis was his. This of course was most unfortunate, especially so that he gave me credit for what I had nothing whatever to do with." "Our report will come out in the October bulletin and I think will disappoint no one."

In my letter to Dr. Cook I had touched upon the walnut aphid which did so much damage this year, and in reference to this Dr. Cook writes: "We have taken the work of aphid on the walnut and are doing our best to propagate the ashly gray lady bird, which is a great enemy of the walnut aphid. I believe you will hear from us in this matter. In cases like this treatment is expensive, and if we can get a predator (i. e. the lady bird referred to) who will do the work, it will be a gracious gain."

I hope that the incident will not be without its lesson. We can not always believe press reports, both as to subject matter or authorship. It is also well to have some one on guard and ready for action when false reports are sent out. It is also well to be cautious and charitable in comment.

A Potpourri of News and Views

From the Los Angeles Financial Review

Second Mortgage Banks.

Germany is now directing attention to the problem which urban centralization, incident to commercial and industrial expansion in recent years has raised in the field of city real estate credit. Vice Consul General DeWitt C. Poole in Berlin writing to the State Department says:

The disorganized state of the urban building and real estate branch and the stringency in the real estate money market led to an interpellation in the Prussian lower house in December last of the adoption of a resolution calling on the Prussian Government to investigate and ascertain "by what legislative means and under what conditions the embarrasments of urban real estate credit." As yet no legislation has resulted, but various city governments, under the approval and direction of the Prussian central authorities, are coming to the aid of their citizens in an effort to ameliorate conditions. The aim is to provide means from which loans can be made at reasonable rates of interest on the security of second mortgages. A communal mortgage fund has been maintained in the city of Neuss-on-Rhine since the spring of 1904 and in 14 other cities of Prussia there are funds from which second mortgage loans are extended to persons desiring to build small and medium sized houses.

The Central Association of German Banks and Bankers writes that, after some years of effort on the part of the real estate house owners' associations of Baden to bring about the establishment of municipal mortgage banks to handle second mortgages, the city council of Karlsruhe has recently voted that a municipal mortgage bank ought to be established and the Ministry of the Interior has lent its approval in general terms. Another project in southern Germany looks to the organization of a joint-stock bank for second mortgages. The enterprise has been under continual discussion since the beginning of 1910, and according to report some $5,000,000 have already been subscribed. The plan at present attracting most attention is being put into operation by the city of Berlin-Schöneberg, one of the municipalities making up Greater Berlin. The Schöneberg Institution, known as the Berlin-Schöneberg Mortgage Banking Association, is a co-operative organization of real estate owners which affords its members, from funds raised by means of the issuance of mortgage bonds for which the city stands security, cheap, long-term credit on second mortgages on real estate within the city limits. At present it embraces seventy property owners representing 100 pieces of property. Its method of doing business is described as follows: The bank makes second mortgage loans on real estate in Schöneberg to the extent of 50 to 80 per cent of the value of the property (other cities, according to the by-laws of the projected institutions, limit loans to 70 per cent and only in exceptional cases 80 per cent and then only to the extent of $12,000). The loan is made in cash or in the form of mortgage bonds issued by the bank. Gains or losses due to differences between the par and quoted values of the bonds accrue to the mortgagee. Capital and interest on the bonds are guaranteed in full by the city, and the interest is paid at the rate of 4 per cent. Interest periods in any case where the association may fail to do so.

Under the terms of the by-laws the loans are not subject to call on the part of the association. Amortization is compulsory. Furthermore, the prior mortgage must be converted, as far as may be and at the earliest possible interest date, into amortization mortgages (as subject to call), a procedure which, it is expected, will be attended by no difficulties. Part repayment of the loan on the sale of the property is not required, as in the case of the projected Neukölln association, the by-law of which stipulate that 10 percent be paid back under such circumstances.

Interest is payable on the loans at the rate selected by the bank plus 1-4 per cent, to cover the cost of administration. Thus with 4 per cent bonds the interest is only 4-1/4 per cent. That portion of the loan which is not paid off at the end of the term of the mortgage must be paid off at the rate of 1 per cent per annum, that over 60 per cent, at the rate of 1-1/2 per cent. In addition a supplementary charge of 1-4 per cent is levied on the prior mortgage is made upon the conversion of the prior mortgage into an amortization mortgage. The process of amortization will be considered expedient by the fact that to the amortization credit account of each mortgagee will be added, besides the amortization payments proper, the interest on those portions of the loan which have been amortized. Each portion of the loan which has been amortized will thus at once yield interest in favor of the amortization account. In this way it will come about that the interest on the loan (the normal rate), the amortization charge 1-1/2 per cent (the normal rate), the loan will be paid off in 23 years, a period which will be still further shortened to the extent that supplementary amortization payments are made on the prior mortgage.

As soon as one-third of a loan is paid off, the mortgagee may obtain the use of this credit for part conversion of his obligation, by option, or by negotiating a new loan with the association. He may indeed realize on his amortization credit even sooner. In case the property is sold, the amortization credit passes to the purchaser and must be made good by him to the seller or original mortgagee; also, in case the loan is paid back, the amortization credit is applied to the reduction of the capital sum to be paid.

Aside from the usual expenses attendant on carrying out a loan transaction and the possible margin loss on the bond, the only incidental costs connected with a mortgage bond are the association entrance fee of 200 marks ($119), the payment of one-half of which may be delayed, and a commission amounting to 2 per cent.

Figuring in all payments and charges, the cost of a loan from the association works out to between 6 1/2 and 7 per cent per annum, which in view of the present state of the money market is considered moderate.

Institutions more or less identical with that in Schöneberg are in course of organization in Neukölln or Rixdorf (another municipal unit of Greater Berlin) in Wiesbaden, and in Königsberg (Prussia). Elberfeld decided upon a municipally sustained second mortgage bank July 31, 1912, and the town of Trep-tow, near Berlin, May 22, 1913.

Big Contract for Fuel Oil

The first million barrels of oil, on a contract for two and one-half million barrels, to be delivered by the General Petroleum Company to the Royal Dutch-Shell combination on a vessel belonging to the latter will be loaded October 1 at San Francisco. This is one of the largest contracts yet made with the new combination that has invaded California. It calls for fuel residuum at a price of 50 cents per barrel, the total amount to be paid being $1,250,000. This is the first move of this great combination to enter the fuel oil business on the coast and it portends much to California.

The oil sold by the General Petroleum Company is fuel residuum after the topplings have been taken off at the Vernon refinery. This is the particular product with which the California market is glutted at present, as shown by the August figures printed in another column, and is said to be a very favorable transaction for General Petroleum.

Nitrate From Chile

During the nitrate year that closed June 30, 1913, the production in Chile amounted to 59,450,454 Chilean quintals, a quintal equals 101.41 pounds, against 54,572,965 quintals for 1912, with consumption for the same period at 51,908,912 quintals, against 52,985,430 quintals for 1912. The exports for the first six months of 1913 amounted to 26,890,700 quintals, against 22,628,522 quintals for the same time in 1912. The price of nitrate declined from $2 per quintal July 1, 1912, to $1.84 July 1, 1913.

State Calls in Cash

State Treasurer Roberts has called on the San Francisco banks for the immediate return of $1,000,000 of the state's money on deposit, which will be followed early in October by a general state demand for $3,000,000 more, the latter to pay for the $2,225,000 in San Francisco Harbor and $700,000 in State Highway bonds which it has contracted to buy.

Agricultural Credit Co.

Mention was made in The Financial News last week of the formation of the Agricultural Credit Corporation of California, the first of its kind in the United States and based on the same lines as corporations of the same character in the old world. Details of the new corporation are outlined by Norman Lombard of San Francisco, who has been chosen manager of the combination. Says Mr. Lombard:

"We believe the company will have a beneficial effect upon the general financial condition of the farmers of the state. The farmers of California need more money to carry on their very extensive operations. People who are not familiar with the interior of the state do not appreciate how rapid the development and how much money is needed for pumping plants, irrigation ditches and other improvements of a profitable and productive nature. We are going to make it possible for the farmer of the state to obtain this much-needed money."

"The farmers of the state are paying from 8 per cent to 10 per cent interest on their money, and offer as security the safest collateral on earth. A strong corporation can borrow money on farmers' mortgages at considerably less than the farmer can, and this is exactly what we intend to do."

"The problem of supplying more money for the farmers is an economic one after all, and comes down to the question of demand and supply. If we wish to obtain more money for the farmers, we must give the investor every feeling of security, and must give him his investment in negotiable form, so that he can cash it at any time. This our company will do by standing behind the securities which it offers with its absolute guarantee, and by issuing its securities in negotiable form, in the shape of collateral trust bonds, issued against mortgages which will be deposited with a trustee, who will hold the mortgages until the bonds are satisfied. These bonds will be listed on the exchanges and will be as negotiable and convertible as any form of bond investment, and will, therefore, sell at a low rate of interest."

"Companies operated along the lines of the Agricultural Credit Corporation of California have been most successful and beneficial in the East and abroad. The collateral trust bonds of such companies sell on better terms even than the bonds of their governments, the reason being that government bonds fluctuate in accordance with war conditions, while bonds based upon producing farm land do not fluctuate, as 'good farm land cannot go to war'."

"The Landshutten bonds of Germany pay a lower rate than the bonds of the German government. In France the bonds of the Credit Foncier are issued in very small denominations—$20 or 100 francs—and are purchased by all classes of people and are practically as negotiable as currency. A recent issue of $100,000,000, or 500,000,000 francs, bearing only 3 1/2 per cent interest, was eighteen times oversubscribed."

"Even in our own country—notably in New York and Chicago—such companies place their bonds on a basis which compares favorably with any other kind of bond."

Interlocking Directorates.

Before the railroad board of arbitration in New York Frank J. Warner, statistician for the trainmen, declared that "sixteen men hold nine large railway systems and all of their subsidiary companies in unity of action, and serve as means of communicating policies among them." In an endeavor to substantiate this statement he introduced a series of elaborate tables. Geo. F. Baker headed the list. He declared that 13 individuals hold 112 distinct directorships in eastern territory. After naming the sixteen directors and the systems with which they are identified he said:

"If we select from among the different systems the individual directors who occupy more than five different positions, we find twenty men serving as five hundred and seventy-one directors. These more important directors, with the number of positions held by each, are: George F. Baker, fifteen; William C. Brown, thirteen; J. P. Morgan, twelve; William Rockefeller, eleven; William H. Newman, eleven; Samuel P. Hays, nine; James Stillman, nine; W. K. Vanderbilt, eight; L. C. Ledyard, eight; William Skinner, seven; J. F. Lore, seven; John P. Green, seven; F. W. Vanderbilt, seven; N. B. Ream, six; Joseph Wood, six; James McCreagh, six; Chauncey Depew, six, and W. K. Vanderbilt, six."

The New York Central & Hudson River Railroad, according to the tables, has a board of directors numbering 13 and these 13, the tables showed, occupied as many as 89 separate and distinct directorships in those subsidiary companies of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad. In addition, it was stated, the same 13 men occupied 23 directorships on roads outside the New York Central system and in the eastern territory upon which requests have been made, giving to these 13 men 112 separate and distinct positions as directors."

Increases Its Fleet

The twelve new steamers which the United Fruit Co. contemplates adding to its present service, six of which will probably go to the English associate of the company, Elders & Fyfe, will have a gross tonnage of between 60,000 and 70,000 tons, and will increase the total tonnage of the Fruit company and the English associate to over 250,000 tons. The six ships which are to go to United Fruit Co., if the order is placed, will probably be financed in the same way that preceding ships of the company have been. United Fruit Co. will, in all probability, follow the plan of paying 25 to 30 per cent in cash, and the remainder in serial installments over a term of ten years, these installments being charged to charter expense, so that in the end the company will own the steamers without capital obligations against them.

Tungsten and Its Uses

Tungsten, the metal so much to the fore in the manufacture of incandescent lamps, has very interesting properties, says the Wall Street Journal. It is as heavy as gold, and will easily scratch glass. It melts only in the heat of the electric arc—a fact which explains how the filament supports, without fusion, the intense heat necessary to incandescence. Alloyed with iron it communicates its hardness, making the so-called "self-hardening" steels; tools of tungsten-steel may be brought to redness and reformed without losing their temper. Magnets of the same alloy retain their magnetism without loss, and for this reason are extensively used in the manufacture of speedometers. Metallic tungsten is prepared by reduction in the electric furnace.

Central California Gas Co.

According to a statement received by William R. Staats Company, fiscal agents for the Central California Gas Company the earnings for that corporation for the month of August show an increase of 25 per cent in gross and 5 per cent in net earnings over August 1912. Here are the figures for August:

	1912	1913	Aug. 31, '13
Gross revenue	$1,170	$5,230	$54,388
Op. cost and taxes	2,377	2,319	28,745
Net earnings	1,898	2,919	25,643

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The demand for casaba melons is very good, and this variety is bringing higher prices than last year, due partly to the heavy shipments east.

The San Francisco market advanced to 49 cents yesterday on fresh ranch eggs, and the local market, with only 96 cases reported in, was very firm also, and some dealers are reported as paying up to 48 cents, which is higher than at any time during the week. The butter market was steady at 32, which is also the quotation in the north. There were no large sales reported. Receipts were 25,529 pounds. Northern creamery cheese was good demand. Receipts were 818 pounds.

There were no potatoes reported in, and the market on several days of light arrivals showed more than usual strength. Highlands were quoted at $1.20 f.o.b. Los Angeles, on fancy stock. The best pack river spuds were quoted at about $1.35. The receipts of onions were 210 sacks, and the market was a trifle weaker on prevailing high figures. There were no changes in sweet potato prices, and only 40 sacks were reported in.

Notice to the Members of the Santa Ana Valley Walnut Growers' Association

It has been found that many of the walnuts now being brought in are not of the grade. There have been a number of lots brought in at the packing house which tested from 12 per cent to 50 per cent bad. The chances are that a large part of the crop is in this condition. It is impossible to market these nuts and get No. 1 price for them. The board of directors desires an expression from the growers as to what steps are to be taken to market these nuts. A meeting of the members of this association will therefore be held at the City Hall, Santa Ana, on Saturday, Oct. 18th at 2 p. m. for the purpose of determining the best manner of settling the question.

By order of Board of Directors, A. C. TIEDE, Secretary.

—Hard times social dance, Deloit (Otto) Hall, Saturday evening, Oct. 18. Wear your old clothes.

The Last Word

n apples is the fruit produced in the young orchards in the Yucaipa Valley. For color, size, shape, flavor and keeping qualities, it cannot be surpassed in the world. Why? Because it is the product of high altitude, mountain air, Placencia loam soil, and melted snows of Old Grayback. No room for doubters now. The trees are there, the water is there, the fruit is there, the market is ready. The magnificent development of the last four years has solved all problems. Henceforth Yucaipa will hold its place secure as a high class fruit growing district. Four hundred separate orchards have been planted, many of which are bearing fruit, the finest and best. The sales of ranches now aggregate a million and a half dollars. A few months more will likely see the last acre of this high class irrigated land sold. There is more land, but not up on the high mesa, the choicest orchard land in Southern California. This opportunity to get a prize will not last much longer. Now you still have a chance to get in at the beginning. And every ranch will prove a money maker. Already the rise in values and the growing trees have made hundreds of thousands of dollars for Yucaipa ranches. Orchards that cost four hundred dollars per acre, are selling for eight hundred and they will soon double again for the bearing trees will bring gold in dollars into Yucaipa Valley.

NOW THEN! Go up to the Apple Show, Oct. 23-24. See the fruit on the young trees. See what scientific tree-growing is like. See the most beautiful valley in Southern California. One day is enough for the trip. Reduced railroad rates, $2.25 for the round trip. Free automobile ride through the valley. Call at 504 North Main St., Santa Ana, or Phone 970W, Home 3744.

OH, YOU RENTERS!

Here's One (1) Glorious Chance for You.

I have simply got to have $600 THIS WEEK.

I have the prettiest bungalow in the City, bright as a dollar, well located, corner lot, kitchen, dining and breakfast room, built-in buffet, summer house, well-kept lawn, and plenty of nuts and fruit.

$1152 is total now paid in on it.

600 was paid in cash, and what I now NEED.

$552 (Gift to you) is what I have paid in rent at $23 month.

(Larger payments can be made if desired.) It's hard to realize how many $23's you kiss goodbye as rent, until you watch them grow into a nice little home like this. And it's sure hard to be forced back into being "Just a Renter." I need $600 just that bad, that I will sacrifice my progress in independence, and pay you back the $552 rent you didn't think about in the last 2 years, and also give you MY chance.

Next Week won't help. This Offer lasts only until Saturday night.

Progress and Prosperity Page

Building Activities

PROSPERITY MARKS YEAR THIS COUNTY

Most of the Crops Have Been Good and Prices Above the Average

Real estate men find an unusual amount of inquiry for country property. The demand for Orange county lands has been greater during the last six months than ever before. The manner in which the county went through the cold snap of last winter when other counties suffered greatly, turned the attention of newcomers and investors to this county.

There have been a number of sales of acreage property recently in the southwest section, notably that through Harris & Cook, of Will Devenney's ranch at Old Newport to Los Angeles parties for between $55,000 and $60,000.

Prosperous Year
This is a prosperous time of year in Orange county. Orange growers are closing their Valencia shipments after a season in which prices for oranges were high, and the total income far above the total of last year. Lemons brought tremendous prices. The sugar beet harvest is now on, and many of the ranchers have their money. Walnut dividends have been declared by the Santa Ana Valley Walnut Growers' Association, and growers will get quite a sum of money in the next three weeks. The crop is going to bring no less than $1,200,000 into Orange county. The prices received were never better.

It has been an exceptional year for cleaning up crops. Practically everything raised has been sold quickly and the money put in the pockets of the ranchers. While the bean men had a short crop, they have had no difficulty in disposing of the product.

Special Millinery values this week at Gilbert's. 400 trimmed hats to choose from. Come to Gilbert's Millinery department this week.

McPHERSON HEIGHTS PACKING-HOUSE

Finishes Valencias Waiting for Navels

The McPherson Heights Citrus Growers' Association has closed its packinghouse at McPherson after a successful season. The house will not be opened until about Dec. 1, when it will ship navels for the holiday trade.

The house has been busy with Valencias, and during the season the McPherson brands have made names. The district has always produced fine oranges, and this year good oranges brought way-up prices. It has been a big year for growers of the association.

The packinghouse used by the association is modern, and was built only about a year ago after an association was formed among the growers of that section, most of whom had always taken their oranges to range to be packed and shipped.

Reports from the orchards indicate that the navels are going to be a little late in maturing this winter. Probably no shipments will be made before Dec. 1.

CATHOLIC CHURCH AND RESIDENCE OF
PASTOR IMPROVED
Under the able guidance of the new pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church, Rev. Fr. H. Summelen, many improvements have been made in the church property.

The first step was the remodeling and refurbishing of the pastor's residence. The interior was prettily decorated and substantial furniture installed with a number of needed conveniences. Mitchell & Browne did the painting.

The church was the next consideration, being re-painted in blue and gold and the pews varnished and several new ones put in. B. F. Peterman did excellent work.

A beautiful new carpet in gold and brown tints was put on the altar and down the aisles. Electric lights were also installed.

The ladies of the church inaugurated the movement for beautifying the edifice and deserve much of the credit for carrying it to a successful finish.

The Young Ladies' Sodality furnished funds for two new side altars, one dedicated to the Blessed Virgin Mary and the other to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. They will give a supper October 25 on the church grounds to obtain funds to replenish the church library.

MACHINES AT HIGH SCHOOL

Fine Equipment for Practical
Work is Being Set Up by School Boys

Orange News: The machinery of the manual training department of the high school is now being installed under the direction of Mr. Forbes, manual training instructor, and with the help of the members of the manual training classes.

The machines now being placed in the north building of the high school will give the department a good equipment for practical work. The planer weighs 6000 pounds, and is said to be a better machine than is found in many planing mills. Other machines being set up are a joiner, band saw, bench saw, six turning lathes, and a grinder. A mortiser and trimmer have not yet arrived. The two double benches and the twenty-four mechanical drawing tables have already been installed.

Although the machinery has been late in arriving, the work of the department has not been greatly interfered with by its absence, as the classes have been learning the rudiments of wood working.

The commercial department has just received a shipment of new desks that are being placed

Orange and Santa Ana Tax Rates the Lowest

Orange News: Taking into consideration all taxes levied, including school, city and county, the city of Orange has a lower tax rate than any town in the county. The total of all rates levied against property in this city is $3.30 on the $100 valuation, and this is 50 cents lower than the rate of Santa Ana, the next lowest in the county.

The appended table affords an interesting comparison of the several tax rates of the incorporated cities of the county.

It will be noted that the school tax rates are generally lower here than in other towns, which is a doubtful economy, but that the city rate compares favorably with that of any other city in the county. Compared with Anaheim, our city tax rate is $1.30 as against $1.70, in addition to which rate Anaheim gets $10,000 per year out of liquor licenses.

The several tax rates of the incorporated cities of the county are shown in the following table:

NEARLY THOUSAND ATTEND BARBECUE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 17.—Nearly a thousand persons attended the annual barbecue given by the Holly Sugar Company of this city to the beet growers who contract acreage to the local factory and to the friends of the company here. In a large tent tables were spread with barbecued meat and other edibles and the "waiters" were the leading business men of this city, who recognize that the sugar factory is the biggest source of revenue to the business of Huntington Beach. Ranchers were present not only from this county but also from Artesia, Compton and other points in Los Angeles county to which the sugar company has extended its activities.
